

Wednesday, June 21, 2017

Report: Florida ethics panel clears Pam Bondi over Trump contribution

by Ryan Lovelace | Apr 22, 2017, 10:02 AM

Autoplay: On | Off

A Florida ethics panel reportedly concluded behind closed doors that no probable cause existed showing Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi violated any state law when seeking donations from President Trump.

The state ethics panel probed Bondi, a longtime supporter of Trump, in relation to her decision to seek tens of thousands of dollars from Trump nearly four years ago.

The Associated Press reported that the panel endorsed the recommendations of an outside lawyer after an investigator also looked into several complaints. Bondi was personally interviewed as part of the probe, according to the AP.

Ryan Lovelace Attorney General Donald Trump Ethics Campaign Finance Florida

News Politics

Share your thoughts with friends.

 COMMENTS (0)

LOG IN

Post your comment...

SUBMIT

PRIVACY TERMS

Read More Comments

More Washington Examiner

30 MINUTES AGO

FEC Dem eyes widening Russia probe to Facebook, Drudge, foreign companies

1 HOUR AGO

Rex Tillerson urges Saudis to make 'reasonable' demands of Qatar in Gulf crisis

1 HOUR AGO

FBI: Suspect in custody following stabbing at Flint airport

1 HOUR AGO

Jim Mattis orders study of all tactical aircraft after oxygen problems

1 HOUR AGO

Lindsey Graham: Senate Judiciary, Mueller can run concurrent investigation

1 HOUR AGO

F-16 crashes after takeoff during training flight in Houston

1 HOUR AGO

Thanks to feminists, a medical journal is publishing flat-out falsities about contraception and abortion

1 HOUR AGO

ACLU-backed lawsuit accuses DC police of civil rights violations on Inauguration Day

2 HOURS AGO

White House launches website on repealing and replacing Obamacare

3 HOURS AGO

Rob Portman met with North Koreans last year in push to release Otto Warmbier

3 HOURS AGO

Trump administration makes final plea for Supreme Court to take up travel ban

5 HOURS AGO

Jeh Johnson: Trump's 'rigged' election claims affected what DHS could say about Russia interference

8 HOURS AGO

Half of voters disapprove of Republicans' healthcare reform bill

8 HOURS AGO

Trump hits Democrats after special election wins: 'Obstruction doesn't work'

16 HOURS AGO

Border adjustment foes hope Paul Ryan abandoning idea for lower tax rates

16 HOURS AGO

Michael Bloomberg: Trump won because he 'had us saying Make America Great Again'

About Examiner

Magazine Archives

Staff

Advertise

Contact

Terms of Use

Privacy Policy

Facebook

Twitter

Copyright 2017. Washington Examiner. All Rights Reserved.

